VILLA OPPOSES ALL OVERTURES

Rebel Votes Against Informal Peace Conferences.

GONZALES TAKES SAME VIEW

General Alvaro Obregon Telegraphs From the Governor's Palace in Guadalajara That He Has Captured the City and Routed Twelve Thousand Federals.

Washington, July 10.—General Villa has voted against informal peace conferences between representatives of the Constitutionalists and the Huerta government as proposed by the South American mediators.

His attitude was revealed in a telegram sent to General Carranza, copies of which have reached here. This confirmation, together with the knowledge that General Pablo Gonzales, chief of the division of the East of the Constitutional army, is opposed to the conferences, has upset the hopes of Constitutionalists here.

General Alvaro Obregon, commanding the division of the Northeast, is the only one of the three chiefs commanding the main columns of the Constitutional army who has not been heard from, but inasmuch as his forces are near Guadalajara and in striking distance of Mexico City it is believed he will not agree to any parleys at this time.

Rafael Zubaran and Luis Cabrera, representatives of General Carranza, declined to make any comment on the situation. From those Constitutionalists who would talk it was learned that there is a misconception among the Constitutionalists generally of the things to be discussed at the proposed conferences.

The telegram from Villa to Carranza advising the rejection of the invitation extended by the mediators for informal conferences was phrased in emphatic terms. He declared there should be no parleying with Huerta except on the battlefield.

Carranza and Villa, temporarily at least, have patched up their differences, it was announced by persons in communication with General Carranza. The military campaign of the Constitutionalists against Mexico City will be pressed forward as soon as more ammunition is obtained, which is expected to be within a few days.

Douglas, Ariz., July 10.—Telegraphing from the governor's palace in the city of Guadalajara, General Alvaro Obregon informed F. S. Elias, border representative of the Constitutionalists, that he had captured the city Wednesday morning and utterly routed 12,000 federal forces commanded by General Miel, federal governor of Jalisco.

In a fierce battle extending over a zone of eighty miles the federal army was cut to pieces by Obregon's force of less than 10,000 men. Five thousand federalists were captured, Obregon said, along with all the artillery and ammunition of the enemy.

Few of the attacking force were killed or wounded, Obregon reported. He informed Elias that he led his forces personally into Guadalajara.

WILSON WILLING TO TAKE BLAME

Shoulders All Criticism of His Mexican Policy.

OBJECTS TO AN IRRITANT

Chairman Flood of the House Foreign Affairs Committee Tells Why That Body Voted to Recommend to Lay on the Table the Resolution Offered by Representative Kahn of California.

Washington, July 10.—That President Wilson is perfectly willing to shoulder the criticism from all sources arising out of the administration's Mexican policy, but that he is not willing that congress should apply an irritant to the situation, was the statement of Representative Flood of Virginia, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, to members of that committee.

That is the reason the committee voted to recommend to lay on the table the resolution offered by Representative Kahn of California calling for information from the president relative to the truth of revelations in the Hopkins correspondence showing that John Lind assured Captain Hopkins that arms could be exported from the United States to Mexico for the benefit of the Constitutionalists despite the fact that the official embargo of such shipments was still in existence. This means that the resolution will be suppressed.

Mr. Flood did not say so directly, but his fellow members of the committee understood that he had been informed that the president and Mr. Bryan, the secretary of state, did not wish the resolution adopted.

Anxious to Avoid Irritation. A suggestion was made by a member of the committee that John Lind be called before it to testify regarding the matter set forth in the Hopkins correspondence. Mr. Flood said that it was his understanding that the administration officials believed that any such action would also be in the nature of an irritant. In fact, members of the committee were led to believe that publicity of any sort would cause trouble for the president and should be avoided if possible.

Appearing before the committee Mr. Kahn opened his argument by referring to the fact that last August the president appeared before congress and delivered an address on the Mexican situation, in which he said that he was sending John Lind as his "personal representative and spokesman" to Mexico.

Subsequently in the same message, Mr. Kahn observed, the president announced that it was the duty of this government not to take the part of either side of the controversy in Mexico. Mr. Kahn quoted this portion of the president's message.

"The language is unequivocal," he said. "It is clear and explicit and states a position that was in accord with the popular sentiment of the country at the time, namely, that we pledged ourselves to be fair to both sides in Mexico."

Minnesota Secures Most Immigrants for Month of June.

St. Paul, July 10.—Minnesota left all other states far behind during the month of June in the matter of receiving immigrants, according to figures given out by Fred D. Sherman, state immigration commissioner. During the month of June Minnesota received more than twice as many emigrant cars than any other state and more than a third of the total number of cars handled by the Minnesota Transfer railway.

Out of a total of 144 cars handled by the transfer company 51 cars were left in Minnesota. Montana came next with 21 cars, Canada 19, Wisconsin and North Dakota each 15, Iowa, South Dakota and Washington each 8 and the balance 2 and 1.

TO GOVERN NATION BY COMMISSIONS

Opposition to Creation of So Many Important Bodies.

CONGRESSMEN SHIRK DUTY.

Senator Tillman of South Carolina, Making One of His Characteristic Speeches, Says Boards Are Largely Composed of "Lame Ducks"—Progressives an Aid to Democrats.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 10.—[Special.]—There is a revolt against the number of commissions which are designated to handle government affairs. Several speeches have been made which show that the increased number of commissions, with delegated power from congress, are likely to control the government of the United States in the near future.

If the new trade commission bill becomes a law most of the big business of the country will be placed under the control of commissions. The interstate commerce commission now controls an enormous volume, and the trade commission bill will give the new commission enormous powers. In addition the finances of the government have been placed under a commission, although it is designated a federal board.

Fondness For Commissions. The fondness that develops in favor of commissions is rather surprising. Sometimes I think it is because congressmen do not want to be bothered with business that they ought to consider and therefore seek the commission route in order to avoid responsibility.

Senator Tillman in presenting his views on the pending trade commission bill resorted to the use of language which used to characterize his utterances when in full vigor of his health. "We have too many commissions now," said the South Carolina senator, "composed largely of so called 'lame ducks,' both Democrats and Republicans, who have been defeated at the polls and are given these places mainly as a compensation and means of support. Congress ought to perform its own functions rather than to submit them to commissions created by executive appointment."

Tell the Same Story. Interviews are constantly appearing in the papers in Washington given by men from the west who discuss the political outlook. They tell the same story, which is to the effect that the Republicans might carry many congressional districts if it were not for the bull moose ticket in the field. It is evident that the split in the Republican party is a great asset to the Democrats in the elections this fall. The Democrats are enjoying the same situation that helped the Republicans during the years when the silver question was a dividing line.

Martine's Suggestion. Senator Martine has become known as a large hearted man who would be glad to do almost anything for people.

As a consequence, he has been besieged by the women who have been discharged from the pension office. These discharges have been made on account of the reduction of the force. A delegation of women called upon the New Jersey senator not long since, and he asked them how long they had been in the pension office. One said twenty-five years and another said thirty-one years. "Don't you think," asked Martine, "that after such a long time in the public service you might give some other sisters a chance?"

"That suggestion didn't go worth a cent," said Martine afterward in telling the story. "They wouldn't look at it in that way."

Small Politics. There are so many big political questions which can be used in the campaign this fall that it is surprising to see prominent members of all parties playing very small politics. For instance, quite a lot of time has been spent in bickering as to the percentage of members of the different parties present. This arises out of the failure of members to attend the sessions of the house.

Of course members ought to attend the sessions, but they can scarcely be blamed for refusing to listen to a lot of small talk that constantly goes on or to the long and dreary speeches that are made. Members get tired of simply being pawns to make a quorum or to vote as the party leaders direct.

Wingo's Illustration. Congressman Wingo of Arkansas was advocating what is known as the Scott bill for stopping speculation in farm products. Those opposing him said that such a measure could not get through the senate, to which Wingo replied, "Pass this Scott bill and it will go through the senate like the grace of God through a camp meeting." But the house did not look at it in that way.

Sees a Long Session Ahead. Vice President Marshall, who said that he could write a book of Indian history after the long time taken on the Indian appropriation bill, was asked if he expected to learn all there was to know about the trusts. "No, sir," replied the vice president; "I stop my education at Christmas."

LIPTON MAY FACE CHARGES

Criminal Prosecution Growing Out of Bribery Cases Suggested.

London, July 10.—Criminal prosecution of Sir Thomas Lipton, the chairman, and his co-directors in Lipton, Limited, was suggested by Sir Arthur Markham, a Liberal member, in a question addressed to the attorney general appearing in parliamentary papers.

The question arose out of the recent conviction of nine army officers and eight civilian employees of Lipton, Limited, on charges of receiving and giving bribes to influence the allotment of supply contracts for the army canteens.

ADVOCATES REVISION OF SCHOOL SYSTEM

Views of Federal Commissioner of Education.

St. Paul, July 10.—In a stirring address, called by many educators the most striking speech that has been heard during the convention of the National Education association, Dr. Philander P. Claxton, United States commissioner of education, declared for a revolutionary revision of the entire school system of the country. He spoke before the general session at the Auditorium.

On the program with Dr. Claxton were Dr. William Oxley Thompson, president of Ohio state university, and Professor Edward A. Ross of the department of political economy of the University of Wisconsin.

The association took a decided stand for equal suffrage in the resolutions adopted, indulged in a backhand slap at the Carnegie, Rockefeller and Sage foundations without naming them, declared for equality in pay as between the sexes, compromised on the subject of teaching sex hygiene in the schools and included other subjects of perennial interest to the educators.

COMMITTEE HAS ADVERSE REPORT

BUSINESS MEN ARE CHANGING

President Talks With Several on Trust Legislation.

Washington, July 10.—President Wilson believes that business men are coming around to the administration's view of anti-trust legislation and are willing and ready that the program laid out be put through during the present session of congress.

He made this plain to callers after a talk with Henry Ford, the millionaire automobile manufacturer, and other representatives of business.

Mr. Wilson said these men have been uneasy over the possibility that an attempt would be made to be too explicit in definitions of illegal trade practices. He gave it as his opinion, however, that the fifth section of the Newlands trade commission bill, which makes illegal unfair practices in trade, covers the desired ground very well. He indicated opposition to granting the commission power to give advance opinions on the illegality of certain practices, remarking that some men wanted immunity baths in advance.

Senators Oppose T. D. Jones on Federal Reserve Board.

DELAYS ACTION ON WARBURG

Opposition to Confirmation of Mr. Jones is Based on the Fact That He Has Been Named as a Defendant in an Action Brought by the Federal Government Under the Anti-Trust Law.

Washington, July 10.—Joined by four other Republicans and two Democrats Senator Nelson of Minnesota won a victory over President Wilson when the senate committee on banking and currency, by a vote of 7 to 4, made an adverse report on the nomination of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago to be chairman of the federal reserve board.

The fight on Mr. Jones and that waged against Paul Warburg of New York to be a member of the federal reserve board is the most serious controversy with congress that has confronted Mr. Wilson since he entered the White House.

Following the action in reporting the Jones nomination adversely the committee voted unanimously to take no further action for the present on the nomination of Mr. Warburg and to adjourn subject to the call of the chairman.

The Republican senators who voted with Mr. Nelson in favor of rejecting the nomination of Mr. Jones were Senators Crawford of South Dakota, McLean of Connecticut, Weeks of Massachusetts and Bristow of Kansas. The Democrats who opposed the administration on this proposition were Senators Reed of Missouri and Hitchcock of Nebraska.

Foreshadows Fight in Senate.

The action taken by the committee foreshadows a fight in the senate on these nominations that promises to be prolonged and bitter. The nominations can be held up indefinitely in executive session, which will operate to delay the trust bills, and other pending legislative business.

It is believed that if Mr. Warburg had appeared before the committee in response to its request confirmation would have been recommended. As to Mr. Jones, the president's personal choice, the situation was different. He stood no chance of favorable action from the beginning.

Led by Senator Nelson seven members of the committee are opposed to him for the reason that he has been named as defendant in a suit brought by the federal government under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Mr. Jones has defended the practices of the International Harvester company and told the members of the committee that he approved them.

Some of these practices have been condemned specifically in the bill filed by the government against the harvester company and they occurred during the time that Mr. Jones was a director of the company.

Senator Hitchcock, a Democrat, who, with Senator Reed, another Democrat, joined with the five Republicans of the committee in voting adversely on the Jones nomination, said that the report on the case would be submitted to the committee early next week. It will be a written report, accompanied by the testimony taken in the case, and certification of the court proceedings in the Harvester cases brought by the federal government and by some of the states.

Washington, July 10.—That President Wilson is perfectly willing to shoulder the criticism from all sources arising out of the administration's Mexican policy, but that he is not willing that congress should apply an irritant to the situation, was the statement of Representative Flood of Virginia, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, to members of that committee.

That is the reason the committee voted to recommend to lay on the table
the resolution offered by Representative Kahn of California calling for information from the president relative to the truth of revelations in the Hopkins correspondence showing

Mr. Flood did not say so directly, but his fellow members of the committee understood that he had been informed that the president and Mr.
Bryan, the secretary of state, did not wish the resolution adopted.

Anxious to Avoid Irritation.

A suggestion was made by a member of the committee that John Lind be called before it to testify regarding the matter set forth in the Hopkins correspondence. Mr. Flood said that it was his understanding that the administration officials believed that any such action would also be in the nature of an irritant. In fact, members of the committee were led to believe that publicity of any sort

Appearing before the committee Mr.
Kahn opened his argument by referring to the fact that last August the president appeared before congress and delivered an address on the Mexican situation, in which he said that he was sending John Lind as his "personal representative and spokesman" to Mexico.

Subsequently in the same message,
Mr. Kahn observed, the president announced that it was the duty of this said. "It is clear and explicit and

CONGRESSMEN SHIRK DUTY.

Senator Tillman of South Carolina,
Making One of His Characteristic Speeches, Says Boards Are Largely Composed of "Lame Ducks"—Progressives an Aid to Democrats.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 10.—[Special.]—
There is a revolt against the number of commissions which are designated to handle government affairs. Several speeches have been made which show that the increased number of commissions, with delegated power from congress, are likely to control the government of the United States in the near future.

If the new trade commission bill becomes a law most of the big business of the country will be placed under the control of commissions. The interstate commerce commission now controls an enormous volume, and the trade commission bill will give the new commission enormous powers. In addition the finances of the government have been placed under a commission, although it is designated a federal board.

Fondness For Commissions.

The fondness that develops in favor of commissions is rather surprising.
Sometimes I think it is because congressmen do not want to be bothered with business that they ought to consider and therefore seek the commission route in order to avoid responsibility.

Senator Tillman in presenting his views on the pending trade commission
bill resorted to the use of language which used to characterize his utterances when in full vigor of his health.
"We have too many commissions now,"
said the South Carolina senator, "composed largely of so called 'lame ducks,' both Democrats and Republicans, who have been defeated at the polls and are given these places mainly as a compensation and means of support. Congress ought to perform its own functions rather than to submit them to commissions created by executive appointment."

Tell the Same Story.

Interviews are constantly appearing in the papers in Washington given by men from the west who discuss the political outlook. They tell the same story, which is to the effect that the Republicans might carry many congressional districts if it were not for the bull moose ticket in the field. It is evident that the split in the Republican party is a great asset to the Democrats in the elections this fall.
The Democrats are enjoying the same situation that helped the Republicans
during the years when the silver question was a dividing line.

Martine's Suggestion.

Senator Martine has become known as a large hearted man who would be glad to do almost anything for people.

As a consequence, he has been besieged by the women who have been discharged from the pension office. These discharges have been made on account of the reduction of the force. A delegation of women called upon the New Jersey senator not long since, and he asked them how long they had been in the pension office. One said twenty-five years and another said thirty-one years. "Don't you think," asked Martine, "that after such a long time in the public service you might give some other sisters a chance?"

"That suggestion didn't go worth a cent," said Martine afterward in telling the story. "They wouldn't look at it in that way."

Small Politics.

There are so many big political questions which can be used in the campaign this fall that it is surprising to see prominent members of all parties playing very small politics. For instance, quite a lot of time has been spent in bickering as to the percentage of members of the different parties present. This arises out of the failure of members to attend the sessions of the house.

Of course members ought to attend
the sessions, but they can scarcely be blamed for refusing to listen to a lot of small talk that constantly goes on or to the long and dreary speeches that are made. Members get tired of simply being pawns to make a quorum or to vote as the party leaders direct.

Wingo's Illustration.

Congressman Wingo of Arkansas was advocating what is known as the Scott bill for stopping speculation in farm products. Those opposing him said that such a measure could not get through the senate, to which Wingo replied, "Pass this Scott bill and it will go through the senate like the grace of God through a camp meeting."
But the house did not look at it in that way.

Sees a Long Session Ahead.
Vice President Marshall, who said that he could write a book of Indian history after the long time taken on the Indian appropriation bill, was asked if he expected to learn all there was to know about the trusts.

"No, sir," replied the vice president;
"I stop my education at Christmas."

Criminal Prosecution Growing Out of Bribery Cases Suggested.

London, July 10.—Criminal prosecution of Sir Thomas Lipton, the chairman, and his co-directors in Lipton,
Limited, was suggested by Sir Arthur Markham, a Liberal member, in a question addressed to the attorney general appearing in parliamentary papers.

The question arose out of the recent conviction of nine army officers and eight civilian employees of Lipton, Limited, on charges of receiving and giving bribes to influence the allotment of supply contracts for the army canteens.

ADVOCATES REVISION
OF SCHOOL SYSTEMViews of Federal Commissioner of Education.

St. Paul, July 10.—In a stirring address, called by many educators the most striking speech that has been heard during the convention of the National Education association, Dr.
Philander P. Claxton, United States
commissioner of education, declared for a revolutionary revision of the entire school system of the country. He spoke before the general session at the Auditorium.

On the program with Dr. Claxton were Dr. William Oxley Thompson, president of Ohio state university, and Professor Edward A. Ross of the department of political economy of the University of Wisconsin.

The association took a decided stand for equal suffrage in the resolutions adopted, indulged in a backhand slap at the Carnegie, Rockefeller and Sage foundations without naming them, declared for equality in pay as between the sexes, compromised on the subject of teaching sex hygiene in the schools and included other subjects of perennial interest to the educators.

COMMITTEE HAS
ADVERSE REPORT

BUSINESS MEN ARE CHANGING

President Talks With Several on Trust Legislation.

Washington, July 10.—President Wilson believes that business men are coming around to the administration's view of anti-trust legislation and are willing and ready that the program laid out be put through during the present session of congress.
He made this plain to callers after a talk with Henry Ford, the millionaire automobile manufacturer, and other representatives of business.

Mr. Wilson said these men have been uneasy over the possibility that an attempt would be made to be too explicit in definitions of illegal trade practices. He gave it as his opinion, however, that the fifth section of the Newlands trade commission bill, which makes illegal unfair practices in trade, covers the desired ground very well. He indicated opposition to granting the commission power to give advance opinions on the illegality of certain practices, remarking that some men wanted immunity baths in advance.

FRISCO FORECLOSURE ASKED

Trust Company Holds Mortgage of $68,666,000 on Railroad.

St. Louis, July 10.—Foreclosure of a mortgage of $68,666,000 on the Frisco railroad was asked in the United States district court here by the Guaranty Trust company of New York. The Frisco is in the hands of receivers.

The petition asks that the mortgage be declared a valid lien against the property which it covers, which includes a large part of the Frisco system.

The mortgage was given to secure a series of refunding 4 per cent bonds, issued in 1901. The petition says the accrued interest on the bonds is $1,373,000.

CHURCH WOMEN CROSS
BATS ON BALL FIELD.

New Rockford, N. D., July 10.—Catholic and Congregational women of New Rockford crossed bats on the baseball
diamond in a game the proceeds of which went to mission work of both churches. The score was 15 to 14, but the scorekeepers, Methodists and Episcopalians, could not agree on the winner. Lutherans and Presbyterians umpired.

MESSENGER BOYS BUY OPIUM

They Tell Federal Prober It Can Be
Had at Will in Chicago.

Chicago, July 10.—Messenger boys can buy opium at will in Chicago's Chinatown, several of them told David D. Stansbury, assistant district attorney, who is investigating an alleged combine for the sale of the drug.

Several boys asserted that frequently they were sent to Chinese stores,
where they were given envelopes by Chinese.

Senators Oppose T. D. Jones on Federal Reserve Board.

DELAYS ACTION ON WARBURG

Opposition to Confirmation of Mr.
Jones is Based on the Fact That He Has Been Named as a Defendant in an Action Brought by the Federal Government Under the Anti-Trust Law.

Washington, July 10.—Joined by four other Republicans and two Democrats Senator Nelson of Minnesota won a victory over President Wilson
when the senate committee on banking and currency, by a vote of 7 to 4,
made an adverse report on the nomination of Thomas D. Jones of Chicago to be chairman of the federal reserve board.

The fight on Mr. Jones and that waged against Paul Warburg of New York to be a member of the federal reserve board is the most serious conroversy with congress that has confronted Mr. Wilson since he entered the White House.

Following the action in reporting
the Jones nomination adversely the committee voted unanimously to take no further action for the present on the nomination of Mr. Warburg and to adjourn subject to the call of the chairman.

The Republican senators who voted with Mr. Nelson in favor of rejecting the nomination of Mr. Jones were Senators Crawford of South Dakota, McLean of Connecticut, Weeks of Massachusetts and Bristow of Kansas.
The Democrats who opposed the administration on this proposition were Senators Reed of Missouri and Hitchcock of Nebraska.

Foreshadows Fight in Senate.

The action taken by the committee foreshadows a fight in the senate on these nominations that promises to be prolonged and bitter. The nominations can be held up indefinitely in executive session, which will operate to delay the trust bills, and other pending legislative business.

It is believed that if Mr. Warburg had appeared before the committee in response to its request confirmation would have been recommended. As to Mr. Jones, the president's personal choice, the situation was different.
He stood no chance of favorable action from the beginning.

Led by Senator Nelson seven members of the committee are opposed to him for the reason that he has been named as defendant in a suit brought by the federal government under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Mr. Jones has defended the practices of the International Harvester company and told the members of the committee that he approved them.

Some of these practices have been condemned specifically in the bill filed by the government against the harvester company and they occurred during the time that Mr. Jones was a director of the company.

Senator Hitchcock, a Democrat,
who, with Senator Reed, another Democrat, joined with the five Republicans of the committee in voting adversely on the Jones nomination,
said that the report on the case
would be submitted to the committee early next week. It will be a written report, accompanied by the testimony taken in the case, and certification of the court proceedings in the Harvester cases brought by the federal government and by some of the states.

STREET PAVING IS IN FULL BLAST

Big Cement Mixer Crunching Away on its Meal of Gravel and Cement and Digesting Well

AT WORK ON KINGWOOD STREET

At Noon Half the Strip about Completed from Broadway North to Fifth Street

The city is doing a fine job of cement paving on Kingwood street from Broadway north to Fifth street. At noon today about half the strip was completed. One-half the width of the street is thus about finished clear through.

The city's huge cement mixer feeding on a diet of gravel from Ahren's hill and cement, is digesting its ration well. Men with wheelbarrows scurry from the walk where the gravel is piled high, and roll it into the maws of the mixer.

The foreman at the cement mixer crew is Fred Cheney. Handling the throttle of the mixer is Andrew Ellingboe and his fireman is Fritz Anderson. A block beyond Street Commissioner Jacob Paine has the street nicely prepared for the reception of its bed of cement. The work is being done well under the supervision of City Engineer C. D. Peacock.

SUNDAY SHOWS LAWFUL

State Supreme Court of Minnesota Passes on Question in a Recent Decision

Conducting a picture and vaudeville show on Sunday, when it is so presented as not seriously to interrupt the repose and religious liberty of the community, is not violation of the law of the state of Minnesota, according to a decision which was handed down by the state supreme court in a case on appeal from the courts of Ramsey county.

The opinion was written by Commissioner H. B. Dibel, formerly a district judge of Duluth. In the opinion it is further held that a contract for advertising purposes on a curtain of a theater so conducted, the contract contemplating its use on Sunday, is not void.

"The execution of a contract on Sunday" says the court "for such advertising space is not void." The case was one in which the decision of the lower court was reversed.

RATS EAT FARMERS' SAVINGS

$2,565 Hoarded Away by Aitkin Man is Reduced to Dust by Rats and Hopelessly Lost

Washington, D. C.—Jack Simpson, of Aitkin, Minn., saved for many years and accumulated the sum of $2,565, with which he intended to buy a farm. Mr. Simpson wrote to the secretary of the treasury, saying he had carefully hidden his money "between the upstairs floor and ceiling."

It was safely secreted from the burglars, of whom he was afraid, but, he says, the rats and mice got fat off it. When Simpson endeavored to use it he found that the rodents had reduced his roll of money to dust. Simpson wanted to know if the treasury department could not refund. The experts of the redemption bureau of the treasury are mighty skillful in identifying mutilated money, but the problem submitted by Simpson was beyond their ability. And Simpson can't reimburse him because there is not sufficient evidence of the existence of the money.

DRIVEN INSANE BY THE HEAT

HOT WEATHER IS A GODSEND

Is Drying up the Water in the Farmers' Meadows and Will Enable them to Make Hay

IS IDEAL WEATHER FOR CORN

Acreage in Oats Near Brainerd Believed to be 1,500 Acres, at 40 Bushels to Acre

For three days Brainerd has sweltered in a wave of terrific heat. Today staid old gentlemen are shedding their collars, coats and vests and the girls with their soft, thin shirt waists are the envy of their male friends.

Weather never seems to affect a woman. She always looks calm and cool no matter what conditions she faces. A man, on the other hand, cusses the heat and grows as red as a cooked lobster and then there are men, too, who will study astronomy in the middle of the day, tilting up glasses and steins at an angle of 90 degrees and then rapping them down and crying: "Same thing again."

The mysterious words are understood by the man in a white apron, a confederate as it were, who turns a stopcock one-quarter round and a whizzing sound is heard.

The farmers are shaking hands with themselves, for this is just the ideal weather for corn. It is growing so fast one can see it climbing up. Out in the meadows which had patches of water in them, the hot sun is evaporating the moisture. That means a big hay crop and firm ground to get the hay.

Oats are now doing well and it is believed the acreage about Brainerd amounts to 1,500 acres with the oats running at 40 bushels or more to the acre.

Potatoes are doing well and there will be a big crop of the tubers. The berries are picking up again.

"All we need now," said one farmer in town today, "is lots of this hot weather and no more rain for some time."

ESDON ETCHINGS

The 4th is over with no serious consequences to any one in this locality. Quite a few attended the picnic given by Mrs. Stafford on the shores of Crooked Lake. It certainly is an ideal spot for such an occasion. A good many went to Midland and some to Brainerd.

Mr. Mead, Sr., was taken to a hospital last week for an operation. At last accounts it seemed to be a very successful operation.

Will Mead spent Tuesday and Sunday putting in phones. We can talk to some of the neighbors now. Expect to soon be through to Brainerd.

MUNICIPAL WOOD PILE

Officer Mike Setula Superintendent, Working Force Tom Madden and Gene Davidson

TO BE HARD LABOR HEREFTER

Free Board and Vacations at the City Bastile Superseded by So Many Days Hard Work

Following a plan worked out by Judge J. H. Warner, City Attorney W. H. Crowell and Chief of Police S. W. Quinn, culprits in municipal court drawing so many days are to serve their sentence on a municipal wood pile or rock pile.

Today Officer Mike Setula is the superintendent in charge of a crew of two who are serving out a sentence pushing a crosscut saw through ties back of the Central hose house. Madden drew $25 or 20 days and elected to take the 20 days as he had no money. Davidson drew a $15 fine or 10 days. He is also serving time. Yesterday they worked industriously under the direction of Mike Setula.

This morning Madden bucked and refused to answer the call to labor. It took the combined efforts of Chief Quinn and Officer Setula to get Madden back on his job.

When the wood pile is finished, there will be a rock pile of generous dimensions. New sledges are being provided fitted with unbreakable handles to be swung by whoever happens to be serving 10, 20 or 30 days.

When the news spreads around the country, there is no doubt that every hobo in the vicinity will put a little cross against Brainerd as being a place to pass through quickly before Mike Setula gets you in his crew.

DRILLER HURT IN EXPLOSION

Special to Dispatch:
Iron Mountain, Minn., July 10—Ed Hunter was seriously injured in a dynamite explosion at one of the drills of the Cuyuna Central Mining Co. on the Hunter farm of his father. He may lose a leg. The leg is mashed, the bone badly splintered and Hunter is bruised and cut up over his entire body.

He had picked up a stick of dynamite preparatory to setting off a blast in the drill hole, and accidentally dropping it, he exploded it and also set off a pile of 15 sticks of the explosive near by. It is a miracle that Hunter was not blown to atoms.

He was taken to a Crosby hospital and there attended by Dr. R. J. Sewall of Crosby and Dr. P. J. Sykora, of Brainerd. He was given immediate attention and the doctors will have to operate again within a week.

Hunter is about 24 years old and one of the best known drillers on the range.

Licenses Made Out by Miss Esther Theorin, Sister of Deputy Sheriff Theorin

June is the favorite month of the year when it comes to weddings in Crow Wing county. The earth and air are in tune and the lovers heart beat more nearly as one when there are no disturbing thoughts of coal bills and other material things.

Then again a June bride can wear more finery than a January bride who faces a 40 below blast. June of this year saw 32 licenses issued at the office of Clerk of Court W. A. M. Johnston.

The licenses, as a rule, are made out by Miss Esther Theorin, the charming sister of Deputy Sheriff Claus Theorin. Miss Esther makes out the bonds of Cupid and later, should disagreements arise and a separation occur, then the deputy sheriff serves, the papers for the lawyers in the case.

But so far, says Miss Theorin, all the licenses she has made out have resulted in happy marriages and not one has gone to the divorce court upstairs.

CITY SUMMER FESTIVAL

Colonel C. Frank Hafley, "California Frank" will direct the Wild West exhibition, one of the leading features of "The World at Home," which is to furnish the amusement attractions for the big summer festival July 13-18 under the auspices of the park association.

The ozone of the Western Frontier impels activity, and "California Frank" is a pioneer, who has come into actual contact with conditions as they were in the early days. The Wild West and Congress of Rough Riders with "The World at Home" will be an exposition in itself. Indians, cowboys, cowgirls, bucking bronchos, buffalo hunts, trick and fancy rifle shooting, hold-up of the government stage coach, attack on Indian village, pony express riders, etc., will contribute to make up an exhibition absolutely unique, and of great interest. The noble redman is passing. Civilization is crowding him out of his old haunts.

"California Frank" has revived the traditions of the Indians. It will be a pleasure to witness his entertainment, the cowboys and the cowgirls dancing the Virginia Reel on horseback, roping the steers, and conquering the bucking bronchos, by the cowboys, shooting the glass balls from horseback, and other incidents which go to make up the life of the frontiersman. The California Frank Wild West show will occupy a large reserve upon the plaza of pleasure with "The World at Home," and it will undoubtedly be a rendezvous for thousands who are interested in the history and life of the aborigines.

H. C. Johnson, manager of the Brainerd Mills pays the farmers cash for their products. Farmers all over Crow Wing county and even from Morrison county sell their products at the mill and get cash.

Make Tea of Native Herbs.

Why should we import tea from China and India and coffee from Brazil when our own meadows, roadsides and gardens contain aromatic plants that could be made to give us just as delicious beverages? asked Dr. Bonquet in an article in the Paris Temps. He suggests the common vervain and the bee balm as examples. Others of which our ancestors used to make infusions are orange blossoms, the buds of lime trees, black currant leaves and mint.—New York World.

In this play a three-reel Eclair drama of crime and psychology, "The Link in the Chain," we have a famous scientist who is a confirmed kleptomaniac. His work, as a scientist, is a blessing to the human race. His weakness, his love of stealing, makes him a curse—a constant menace to society at large. What should, in your opinion, be society's conduct towards him? STREET PAVING IS IN FULL BLAST

At Noon Half the Strip about Completed from Broadway North to Fifth Street

The city is doing a fine job of cement paving on Kingwood street from Broadway north to Fifth street. At noon today about half the strip was completed. One-half the width of the street is thus about finished clear through.

The city's huge cement mixer feeding on a diet of gravel from Ahren's hill and cement, is digesting its rations well. Men with wheelbarrows scurry from the walk where the gravel is piled high, and roll it into the maws of the mixer.

The foreman at the cement mixer crew is Fred Cheney. Handling the throttle of the mixer is Andrew Ellingboe and his fireman is Fritz Anderson. A block beyond Street Commissioner Jacob Paine has the street nicely prepared for the reception of its bed of cement. The work is being done well under the supervision of City Engineer C. D. Peacock.

SUNDAY SHOWS LAWFUL

Conducting a picture and vaudeville show on Sunday, when it is so presented as not seriously to interrupt the repose and religious liberty of the community, is not violation of the law of the state of Minnesota, according to a decision which was handed down by the state supreme court in a case on appeal from the courts of Ramsey county.

The opinion was written by Commissioner H. B. Dibel, formerly a district judge of Duluth. In the opinion it is further held that a contract for advertising purposes on a curtain of a theater so conducted, the contract contemplating its use on Sunday, is not void.

"The execution of a contract on Sunday" says the court "for such advertising space is not void." The case was one in which the decision of the lower court was reversed.

DEATH OF MRS. L. B. COATS

Funeral of Spring Lake Lady Takes Place in Brainerd on Saturday Afternoon

Mrs. Josephine M. Coats, wife of L. B. Coats, passed away July 7 at 8 p. m. at Spring Lake, Itasca county, death being due to heart failure. Her funeral takes place in Brainerd Saturday afternoon from the Baptist church, interment being in Evergreen cemetery.

The remains arrived on the noon train of the Minnesota & International railway. Mrs. Coats was born in Burlington, Vermont, on January 13, 1861. Her father was Charles Vassar who died in the war of 1861. Her mother was Mrs. P. J. Kiely, now at 104 Laurel street. She was married again in 1864 to N. L. Heath at Burlington, Vermont. In the fall of 1874 they moved to Brainerd. She was married to Ole Evenson in 1878 and to them were born three sons, Charles, Edward and Samuel Evenson of Spring Lake and one daughter.

She is survived by her present husband, L. B. Coats and one boy by adoption, her mother Mrs. P. J. Kiely, half brother C. H. Heath, sister Mrs. Helen Tift, of Brainerd, half sister Mrs. Hattie Garrett of Mandan, N. D.

RATS EAT FARMERS' SAVINGS

Washington, D. C.—Jack Simpson, of Aitkin, Minn., saved for many years and accumulated the sum of $2,565, with which he intended to buy a farm. Mr. Simpson wrote to the secretary of the treasury, saying he had carefully hidden his money "between the upstairs floor and ceiling."

It was safely secreted from the burglars, of whom he was afraid, but, he says, the rats and mice got fat off it. When Simpson endeavored to use it he found that the rodents had reduced his roll of money to dust. Simpson wanted to know if the treasury department could not refund. The experts of the redemption bureau of the treasury are mighty skillful in identifying mutilated money, but the problem submitted by Simpson was beyond their ability. And Simpson was informed that the government can't reimburse him because there is not sufficient evidence of the existence of the money.

Is Drying up the Water in the Farmers' Meadows and Will Enable them to Make Hay

For three days Brainerd has sweated in a wave of terrific heat. Today staid old gentlemen are shedding their collars, coats and vests and the girls with their soft, thin shirt waists are the envy of their male friends.

Weather never seems to affect a woman. She always looks calm and cool no matter what conditions she faces. A man, on the other hand, cusses the heat and grows as red as a cooked lobster and then there are men, too, who will study astronomy in the middle of the day, tilting up glasses and steins at an angle of 90 degrees and then rapping them down and crying: "Same thing again." The mysterious words are understood by the man in a white apron, a confederate as it were, who turns a stopcock one-quarter round and a whizzing sound is heard.

The farmers are shaking hands with themselves, for this is just the ideal weather for corn. It is growing so fast one can see it climbing up. Out in the meadows which had patches of water in them, the hot sun is evaporating the moisture. That means a big hay crop and firm ground to get the hay.

Potatoes are doing well and there will be a big crop of the tubers. The berries are picking up again. "All we need now," said one farmer in town today, "is lots of this hot weather and no more rain for some time."

ESDON ETCHINGS

The 4th is over with no serious consequences to any one in this locality. Quite a few attended the picnic given by Mrs. Stafford on the shores of Crooked Lake. It certainly is an ideal spot for such an occasion. A good many went to Midland and some to Brainerd.

Mr. Mead, Sr., was taken to a hospital last week for an operation. At last accounts it seemed to be a very successful operation.

Will Mead spent Tuesday and Sunday putting in phones. We can talk to some of the neighbors now. Expect to soon be through to Brainerd.

Make Tea of Native Herbs.

Why should we import tea from China and India and coffee from Brazil when our own meadows, roadsides and gardens contain aromatic plants that could be made to give us just as delicious beverages? asked Dr. Bouquet in an article in the Paris Temps. He suggests the common vervain and the bee balm as examples. Others of which our ancestors used to make infusions are orange blossoms, the buds of lime trees, black currant leaves and mint.—New York World.

'The Link in the Chain'

Don't Miss
This
One

In this play a three-reel Eclair drama of crime and psychology, "The Link in the Chain," we have a famous scientist who is a confirmed kleptomaniac. His work, as a scientist, is a blessing to the human race. His weakness, his love of stealing, makes him a curse—a constant menace to society at large. What should, in your opinion, be society's conduct towards him? The development of this popular character is a brilliant piece of work; the situations that are evolved are strikingly original and gripping. The play is crammed with action.
